MAJORITY OF THE DEAD ARE MINERS; PROPERTY DAMAGE IS $100,000

(By United Press.)
McAllister, Okla., March 14.—Twelve persons were killed and fourteen injured seriously, and more than fifty hurt by tornadoes and wind storms which swept southeastern Oklahoma late yesterday, according to reports received here today.

The greatest loss of life was reported at Gowen, a mining town forty miles east of here, where ten were said to have been killed, and more than fifty injured, when a twister struck that town about 6 o'clock last night.

Two were killed in a tornado that struck Sulphur, a summer resort near here late yesterday afternoon.

The property damage will amount to approximately $600,000, it was estimated at Sulphur. The court house was partially demolished, and more than forty homes were wrecked.

The twister that struck Gowen leveled about thirty homes and rendered about fifty families homeless. The majority at Gowen were miners and their families.

Food and clothing are being rushed to the stricken towns by the Red Cross. The Sulphur unit of the national guard is patrolling the area there and assisting in clearing away the debris. The ruins are being carefully searched for more bodies.

At Gowen calls have been sent out for ten more physicians and many more nurses. The injured there are being rushed to Hartshorn and Wilburton.

SELECTING JURY FOR ARBUCKLE TRIAL

(By United Press.)
San Francisco, March 14.—The tedious process of selecting a jury marked the opening hours of the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle for alleged manslaughter, growing out of the death of Virginia Rappe. One juror had been temporarily passed when court today opened—the only result of the first day's session.

Arkwright's Spinning Jack.
The Science museum, South Kensington, London, has acquired the only known specimen of the original Arkwright spinning jack, which has been in the Swain family for 150 years. It is 48 spindles, and is worked by hand with a five-foot wooden flywheel. Arkwright, after attempting perpetual motion, completed in 1768 a machine for spinning cotton thread.

HARDING'S POSITION ON THE BONUS BILL SENT FROM FLORIDA

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 14.—A message from President Harding giving his exact position on the new soldier bonus bill, which house Republicans have long sought, was rumored today to be on its way here from the president's vacation house boat along the Florida coast.

According to reliable information, the latest word from the president is being sent to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and is in response to appeals of administration leaders in the house for a definite statement from the executive as to whether he would veto the latest effort of the bonus bill framers.

Amendments Voted Down to Bonus Bill

Washington, March 14.—Democratic efforts to restore the cash bonus—to raise funds for the bonus by an excessive profits tax or by a larger income surtax were killed summarily in the ways and means committee today.

Several other Republican amendments less consequential in their nature were also defeated.

TOMMY GIBBONS LOSES 15 ROUND BOUT TO GREB

NINE ROUNDS WENT TO GREB, THREE TO GIBBONS, THREE WERE EVEN

(By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, March 14.—Long faces filled the dressing room around Tommy Gibbons. They had all gone down with him but Jack Britton.

"I saw you were stale in the gym, and I bet on Greb," he said. "Which is one theory, and perhaps the real reason why Gibbons lost the decision after a fifteen-round bout last night with Harry Greb, that was expected to develop the next opponent for Jack Dempsey." Greb won in nine of the rounds, three went to Gibbons, and three about even. Greb won because he was better than Gibbons, and because Gibbons was poorer than he had ever been.

His arms flying around like spokes on a speedster, Greb tore into the opposing boxer from the opening gong, and set such a pace that Gibbons just couldn't keep up with him, and he could never set himself for one of the punches that were expected to drop the jumping jack in front of him, or take some of the steam out of what seemed to be a perpetual motion machine.

THE LOWLY HOG PULLS FARMERS OUT OF INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 14.—The lowly hog of the corn belt has helped the farmer out of the industrial depression, the Chicago live stock exchange today reported. The turn in business in grain states was aided by the advance in the price on hogs, which has amounted to $30,000,000 during the last two months.

Appeals To Farmers

(By United Press.)
Raleigh, N. C., March 14.—Governor Cameron Morrison has issued a call for "food and feed" community meetings throughout North Carolina. Declaring too much attention has been given the staples, cotton and tobacco. Morrison said the coming of the boll weevil had made diversification imperative. Morrison urged the raising of more swine and poultry, and where possible beef, to make the average Tar Heel farmer more independent of markets on the outside. Farm demonstration agents everywhere will instruct farmers in poultrying and gardening.

Always Purpose in Sorrow.
He'd sorrow till its more selfish respect passes; till it turns its religious side to you; till time and experience and faith do their work; till you feel not its gloom, but its glory; not its cross, but its crown. Do not, through any device, lose its sanctifying influence, the greatest loss the soul can meet.—J. F. W. Ware.

SOUTH AFRICAN REVOLUTION IS NEARING END

GOVERNMENT TROOPS, UNDER PREMIER, CLOSING ON LAST STRONGHOLD

REVOLT SAID TO HAVE BEEN FINANCED BY RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT

(By United Press.)

Government forces captured Brakpan.

Six Rand towns which were seized by the rebels in the first rush have been cleared of strikers and disloyal Boers with slight losses to government troops. Over three thousand rebels have been captured to date.

The government forces were closing in upon Fordsburg and Maritzburg today. Airplanes swept over the miners' barricades threatening bombs if immediate evacuation and surrender were not forthcoming.

Soviet Russia Backed Strikers

London, March 14.—Soviet Russia backed the insurrection in South Africa according to several London evening papers today.

YOUNG GIRLS ARE HAVING THE WILDEST FLING IN HISTORY

(By United Press.)
Chicago, March 14.—Girls in their teens are having the "wildest fling" in history, Miss Jessie Benford, social worker told the Chicago hygiene conference today.
Miss Benford, who advocates stringent laws to supplant the lax rule of parents, said thousands of girls between fourteen and sixteen years of age in Chicago lead irregular lives.
"In the old days," said Miss Benford, "the bad girls of the cabaret were much older. Now they are scarcely over twenty."

In addition to the primary election of city officials, delegates were being named to county political conventions to be held Saturday.

WRANGLER PLANNING ANOTHER INVASION OF SOVIET RUSSIA

SAID TO BE FINANCED BY FRENCH AND AMERICAN CAPITALISTS AND OIL INTERESTS

(By United Press.)
London, March 14.—French and American oil interests are backing General Baron Wrangel for a proposed invasion of the rich Baku oil fields, to force an agreement with Russia, according to reports received by Soviet government officials here today.

Wrangel, indefatigable enemy of the Soviet rule in Russia, has arrived in Belgrade. He has in his army the nucleus of an army composed of 30,000 former soldiers of his army which fled to Jugoslavia by way of Turkey after the Russian government quelled his last offensive in Crimea.

According to official reports received here and at Moscow, officials said today Wrangel has secured finances for another invasion of Russia from both American and French capitalists.

SANDVIG FREED FROM BASTILE

HUNGER STRIKE RUMORED—FINE IS FURNISHED BY WIFE

(St. Cloud Journal-Press)
Charles R. Sandvig, convicted for making slanderous statements against numerous Minnesota officials, was ordered released from Hennepin county jail after a fine of $100 imposed by Judge McClenahan, Brainerd, was furnished by Mrs. Sandvig.

Reports from Minneapolis had it that Sandvig had gone on a hunger strike, refusing to eat for the past few days. A letter to his wife made public states that he (Sandvig) is very ill after his stay in jail, and has been unable to eat. It seemed evident that the illness had worn down his determination to serve his full term.

Under the terms of his sentence, Sandvig was to be placed in jail, and remain there until $100 fine was paid. When sentenced recently, Sandvig declared that he would make no effort to pay the fine, and would serve his full term, which was set at 90 days in case no fine was paid.

While in jail, Sandvig busied himself with writing the opening chapters of his new book on the drainage question, called "Light Through Prison Bars, or Cold Steel." Reports from Minneapolis have it that Sandvig stuck to his task even when illness he had suffered from reached its height.

The shipment was valued at $8,000. It was shipped in compartments, and the end of the large case, bound with wire, were filled with mail. The alcohol was packed in the center in saw dust in one gallon lots. The alcohol was consigned to the Unity Brass Works and the Van Briggie Plumbing company, by the Mill City Brass Works of Chicago.

Harding Should Withdraw All Treaties If 4-Power Pact is Lost

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 14.—President Harding should withdraw all the arms conference treaties from the senate and ask the country in the November elections for a mandate for ratification if the senate refuses the four-power Pacific pact, Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin declared today in a speech to the senate.

Vote On Robinson Amendment Today

Washington, March 14.—Supporters of the four-power Pacific treaty will win the first skirmish in the matter late today. Senator Robinson's amendment to the treaty will be refused. In the first vote on the treaty administration forces will have such a clear advantage that Robinson himself knows defeat is certain. The vote will be taken at four o'clock after four hours debating. The importance of today's vote lies in record it will show of the strength of the treaty supporters and its opponents. Up to today rival claims unsupported by anything more tangible than the official polls taken by leaders on both sides. This vote will not, however, be conclusive, as to the strength of the anti-treaty forces, for some senators who did not vote to amend the text of the treaty will vote against its ratification if adequate reservations are not later adopted.

Robinson will seek the vote of these senators later by offering his amendment as a reservation.

THREAT TO DESTROY EVERY POLISH CONSULATE IN THE U. S.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SCORES MADELYNNE IN ADDRESS TO JURY

(By United Press.)
Los Angeles, March 14.—Branding Madalynne Obenchain as a vain designing woman, a siren of modern society who lead John Belton Kennedy to his death, Deputy District Attorney Charles Friske today continued his plea to the jury that she be adjudged guilty of first degree murder.

Friske's address was without mercy. He sketched definitely the picture of Madalynne that the state wishes to impress upon the jury, that of a woman who would go as far as murder to avenge her injured pride.

Her entire story of events preceding the murder were branded as "ridiculous—impossible."

ST. CLOUD MAN ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR STATE AUDITOR

WILL NOT ABIDE BY CONVENTION DECISION BUT RUN AT JUNE PRIMARIES

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 14.—George G. Magnuson of St. Cloud today announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor.

He said he will not submit his candidacy to the Republican state convention, but will run at the June primaries regardless of convention action.

Magnuson has taken a leading part in Republican state politics for many years. Magnuson recently resigned as chairman of the Republican committee in Ramsey county.

"My resignation was not in repudiation of the party's principles, but because I believe that the best interests of the people of the state demand a complete overthrow of the present political coterie, and that the present mixed primary and conventions system is solely a plan devised by the political machine to maintain its power through indirect political methods. I propose that my candidacy shall stand as a banishment of these methods."

Longest Conclave in History.

There is no limit for the duration of a conclave of the sacred college at Rome. In the Middle ages one conclave which met at Viterbo, about fifty miles from Rome, lasted over two years and a half. It ended only because the people of the town, impatient at the state of anarchy in which the pontifical states were thrown for the want of a ruler, climbed on the top of the palace where the cardinals were gathered and unroofed the building.

BIG SLUMP IN INCOME TAX IS REPORTED

DUE, IT IS BELIEVED, TO BIG BUSINESS DEPRESSION LAST YEAR

TAXES THIS YEAR ESTIMATED AT $1,600,000,000; $900,000,000 DECREASE

(By HERBERT WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, March 14.—Income taxes reported to the government this year will be the smallest in five years, treasury officials estimated today—the eleventh hour for filing 1921 returns.

The total of income and profits taxes which will be reported by midnight tomorrow will approximate only $1,600,000,000, the tax experts believe. This is nearly two billion dollars under the amount reported two years ago, and $900,000,000 under the amount last year. At the peak of the war profit period, government receipts in excess of four billion dollars a year were from these taxes.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon estimated the initial payments of federal taxes which must accompany the filing of returns will net the government not more than $400,000,000—the smallest amount since 1917.

The slump in taxes is attributed to the depression which hit the country with its full force last year.

A chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else.
Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one as the subluxations are adjusted and Nature can work normally again, the fever disappears.

WOODMEN BACK THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Modern Woodmen of America Takes Up City Celebration Plans, "Woodmen Day" Set July 7

CLASS OF 30 RIDE THE GOAT

During Business Session Score of Members Talked on Woodcraft and Fraternalism (Contributed)

The Odd Fellows building was in danger, not from a falling roof, but from one which may have raised a few feet on the occasion of the Modern Woodmen of America initiation on Friday night, March 10th, when 30 more candidates were initiated into the secrets of the order with the help of a half starved Woodmen goat and a well trained and efficient Forester team, who had charge of the initiatory ceremonies working under the direction of State Escort Mitchell, District Deputy J. P. Shaver and Heat Forester Clark.

From the moment that things started and until the lights were finally snuffed out, the candidates and even the older members were kept busy wondering what was coming next, (even Dr. A. K. Cohen seemed to be uneasy). After the first degree was exemplified supper was announced, and it was indeed a very tasty one. The refreshment committee certainly are to be commended for their fine supper of oyster stew, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake for it was just such a feed as would put strength and renewed vigor into the degree team and we hope it also helped the large class of candidates to renew their failing strength and courage so that they could face the second degree and as D. H. Fullerton, a candidate himself was heard to remark, "Bring them back to their normal senses."

"No" Louis the Candy Man, we wont feed the goat again until after the next large initiation March 24th, when we hope some men we know of will be present on that night.

During the business meeting between acts reports were made relative to the forthcoming 50th Anniversary celebration of the founding of the City of Brainerd. Some very excellent suggestions were made by a large number present and every Modern Woodman of America member who was present pledged himself to do all in their power to do his share and help make this week, July 3rd to 8th, 1922 a decided success and they feel that with all committees, business men, professional women, unions, farm and lodge organizations, city and county officials, Modern Woodmen of America speakers, Northern Pacific railway officials, and in fact all the people of the county cooperating will make this celebration one to be remembered.

At this initiation we had the pleasure of having with us neighbor J. E. Manly, G. S. Hine, Albert Benson, Fred Closterman, and Roy Batcher all of Staples. L. H. Mattson and F. E. Cox of Deerwood and Fred Markee of Pequot who belong to the M. W. of A. camps in their respective home towns.

During the business meeting a score of members and a large number of the newly obligated members gave some very good talks on fraternalism and other subjects pertaining to the order, the talks given by Neighbors Judge J. T. Sanborn, Dr. A. K. Cohen, L. T. Noggle, State Escort Mitchell, District Deputy J. P. Shaver, A. T. Peterson, C. Bruhn, Martin Siegel, Sam Swanson, Gilbert Sullivan and others too numerous to mention were gratefully received by all present and the visiting members were so enthused that they pledged their cooperation and also that of their local M. W. of A. camp to the end that Brainerds Home Coming week would not lack for help from outside the city.

Why Staples even challenged the Folsom Music Co.

Brainerd M. W. of A. to a tug of war for Modern Woodmen of America day on Friday, July 7th, which challenge was quickly snapped up by the Brainerd team.

It is hoped that on the occasion of the next large initiation of Modern Woodmen of America on March 24th, that all M. W. of A. camps in the surrounding towns near Brainerd will have a large delegation present to help carry along the spirit of Woodcraft and also help us make preparations for the week of July 3rd to 8th, which in the long run will materially benefit all concerned, and also our fine little city of Brainerd, surrounding towns and county and will make boosters of each and every one who participates.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RY. SETTLING UP WEST

By E. F. BENSON.
Manager Department of Immigration and Industry Northern Pacific Railway Company.

Old-fashioned methods of land settlement cannot succeed under present conditions in developing the West.

The time has past when the railroads, or any other influential agency, will co-operate with mere land speculators, but they will gladly co-operate with those land owners and real estate agents who make the settlers welfare their first consideration.

The prosperity and permanent welfare of the settler is the first consideration of the Northern Pacific Railway Company and all its departments—not the profit of the land agents.

Thousands of people, now living in closely-populated eastern states, are eager to move west "to grow up with the country," but they will not move until they know they have a chance to succeed and that they will secure a reasonable pioneer's profit. Heretofore many settlers have been lured to western farms by eloquent representations and left there without enough resources to permit them to develop their land or make a business success of their properties.

But these conditions are passing. The West needs people today more than ever before. The United States has no greater problem than the development of its unused lands.

The Northern Pacific is ready to help solve this problem. It is ready to co-operate in placing many thousands of settlers in the west and in turning the tide of immigration back to the country from the city.

But, is the West ready to receive the settlers?

If it is, we can send the people. We are receiving hundreds of letters weekly from men who want to move to the Northwest and our Immigration Agents are calling upon several hundred of the most likely of these prospects each month.

There is only one answer to the question: "What are the best methods of securing desirable settlers for vacant lands?" It is: "Make a place for them." Reverse the order of things as heretofore practiced in this country—that of painting a bright picture of the land far away and then confining efforts at land settlement to mere land selling, and instead, organize the land owners into helpful and carefully planned community development colonization associations. Make it safe, comfortable, and attractive for the man with $2,000 or $3,000 to become the owner of a farm home that will yield a living for himself and family, pay the taxes and interest and ultimately the debt on his farm; educate the children and provide amusement and social advantages for the women and children, make needed improvements for the family's comfort and pleasure, and finally lay up a modest sum for old age. Less than that is not an attractive or reasonable proposition.

The people of the west are great boosters, the greatest, probably, in the world. In fact, sometimes they boost too much, without backing up their boosting with the real goods. It is not enough simply to advertise for settlers; before asking them to come be sure that you have a place where the ordinary thrifty farmer can succeed. The ordinary booster literature will not get the people in this day.

A GOOD PAIR TO DRAW TO

In the "good old days" cheap land in the West attracted settlers. They were lured on by the promise of the pioneer's profit, which was thought to be in sight, just as they were lured to California for gold in '49.

There are still profits to be made in the West, big profits—profits in satisfaction and happiness as well as in real money. But these profits don't just come to people in the West any more than they come in the East, they must be earned.

The Northern Pacific, which pioneered in the Northwest, is vitally interested in building up its population. The West is hungry for settlers and the Northern Pacific is eager to gratify that hunger. No agency is more anxious to secure permanent settlers for this country.

To get permanent settlers, we are convinced that the ancient land-selling schemes for the benefit of the land-seller are futile. They do more harm than good. What the West needs is colonization of the type which has succeeded so well in California, in Australia and many European countries. This plan puts people on the land to stay, gives them a chance to live and prosper and proves a permanent benefit to the vicinity and state in which they reside.

Successful colonization of western lands is dependent largely upon:

1. A reasonable price for the land.
2. Plenty of time to pay (20 to 30 years) on the amortization plan, and a low rate of interest (not over 6 per cent).
3. Co-operation and supervision of the state.
4. Good water rights, in case of irrigated lands.
5. The organization of colonization companies with sufficient capitalization to back the settlers.
6. Advertising these conditions.
7. Intelligent co-operation of the railroads.

We recommend as an ideal unit for a colonization project, a body of land large enough to accommodate from 100 to 150 families, the land to be of such quality of soil and have such climatic conditions and to be so located with reference to roads and transportation facilities as to give reasonable assurance of success to the prospective settlers.

O'Connell was sold recently for $75,000 to the New York Giants. Kamm is rated an even better prospect than O'Connell.

The price of the land must be reasonable in proportion to adjacent lands in the country and the productive value of the lands and the terms of payment such that the colonization company undertaking the work of assisting and directing the prospective settlers can give them such a contract as will enable them to pay out, even though the settlers have, at the outset, a comparatively small amount of capital—probably $1,500 to $3,000—providing they have a knowledge of farming and a willingness to practice thrift.

Before the Northern Pacific undertakes the colonization of any project, we ask that the land be examined and approved, and the plans of the colonization company, its land prices and terms of sale also studied and approved by some responsible state official charged with this duty. In Montana this means the Commissioner of Agriculture, in Washington, the Director of Conservation and Development, in Idaho, the Commissioner of Reclamation. The titles to the land and water rights and validity and character of the water rights, where lands are irrigated, must also be examined and approved in the same manner.

If conditions are right and approval secured, we have every assurance that thousands of families can be placed on such lands. Without such conditions, but based on the old methods of mere land selling without any assistance to the newcomer, the present prospects for immigration to the West are anything but encouraging.

STUDY THE CONSTITUTION

A campaign to secure laws in every state to require the teaching of the Constitution of the United States in the public schools is being conducted by the National Security League of New York. Such laws have already been enacted in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Vermont, and bills calling for similar laws will be introduced in other states when the Legislatures meet. The movement is in charge of a special committee composed of about 200 leading educators.

All friends of sound government everywhere will give this movement their hearty support. With the United States Constitution as the basis, the correct teaching of American history would follow as a matter of course.

A study of the Constitution must also include a study of the events leading up to its adoption. That means that the early days of our history—the period preceding the Revolution, the Declaration of Independence, the Revolution itself, the Continental Congress, the Articles of Confederation, and all the heroic leaders in those great events—would receive the attention that they deserve in any true history of our country. A thorough grounding of the principles of the Constitution in the minds of the younger generation would also make a speedy end to the radicalism, Socialism, and miscellaneous vagaries that have broken out so frequently in recent years.

A TIME TO GO SLOW

Probably most people will agree that reduction of military expenditures is really a most excellent thing, and greatly to be desired, but at the same time there is no use getting hysterical over it. The Armaments Conference agreed upon certain reductions in the navies of the principal nations—far greater reductions than many thought could be made. Still, there seem to be a few people who are not satisfied, and who want the United States to go beyond the measure of reduction called for by the agreement.

To do so would be sheer folly, for the simple reason that we should maintain the fixed rate as a matter of national safety, if for no other reason. It is highly probable that if the peoples of the nations affected by the agreement find that the navy reduction is a good thing, they will be insistent upon an extension of the program, in which event, if we deem best, we can enter into further treaties for still greater cuts in our naval preparedness.

We have done very well, indeed, at the Armaments Conference, under the leadership of Harding and Hughes. Now, let's leave well enough alone.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP INCREASING

It has been very generally supposed for some time past that the drift of popular interest in the United States was away from the church, but it appears from statistics compiled by the Federal Council of Churches that as a fact it is just the other way. Probably many orthodox church people will be surprised to learn that according to these figures the average growth in church membership, for several years past, at least, has been 2,173 a day, while congregations have increased in number at the rate of three and the ministry by 4½. It will also surprise many people, perhaps, to know that the number of Mormons exceeds the number of Jews—1,646,170 compared with 1,120,000.

PAYING FARM LOANS

Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, is quoted as saying that the farmer is being put in position to liquidate his debts gradually, and that "his normal purchasing power—so vital to commercial, transportation and industrial interests—is being restored."

According to Mr. Meyer's statement, repayment on War Finance Corporation loans to farmers are being made voluntarily by the farmers, and most of them in advance of due dates. He cited this as one reason for the belief that the conditions in the basic agricultural industries are improving.

"The Hallam boom for United States Senator having failed to arouse the enthusiasm of the people," says the Stillwater Gazette, "another is started for Mayor Leach of Minneapolis, in the hope that he may prove more popular. But as a matter of fact the people are satisfied with Senator Kellogg and believe he should be re-elected, and he will be."

The emergency committee of the National Conference of Unemployment announces that favorable reports from widely scattered localities indicate an improvement in business conditions. Reports indicating the nation-wide upward trend had been received from many cities.

Announcement was made in the English House of Commons on Saturday that 21 members of the League of Nations have not paid their subscriptions for last year.

Union miners declare that public sentiment will favor them in their proposed strike April 1. But will it?

GOING NATURE "ONE BETTER"

Man Has Been Engaged in Work of Altering Domestic Animals for Many Centuries.

What a curious thing it is to realize that a St. Bernard, a Pekinese, and a Skye terrier all three come from a common wild stock!

Man has been altering domestic animals of every kind for centuries past. He has taken the common pigeon and invented something like 60 distinct varieties, while hundreds of different sorts of fowls have come from the original jungle bird of Ceylon.

Curious experiments have been made in coloring birds by feeding them on certain foods. One man obtained pigeons of a beautiful red by putting in their food a chemical with the terrible name of "methyltrabromo fluorescein," and he got others of a rich blue by similar means.

Man is changing not only animals and birds, but also fish and insects. Take bees, for instance. Of course, various species of bees are constantly crossed in order to get kinds that will produce a bee which shall be more useful for fertilizing flowers than any of the present sorts.

With object, certain breeders are trying to produce a bee with a longer tongue than any possess at present. For flowers like clover such a bee would be invaluable, since the result would be a great increase of fertile flowers, and, consequently, seed.

The latest branch of creation which man is tackling with a view to modifying is fish. The experiments were begun at the University of Chicago, about five years ago.

NEVER LINCOLN'S REAL LOVE

His Marriage With Mary Todd Seems to Have Been Largely Matter of Convenience.

Mary Todd, wife of Abraham Lincoln, was the sort of woman who is described as "capable and upright." Lincoln, it is testified by biographers, was not deeply in love with Mary, either before or after their marriage. As a matter of fact, his heart was buried in the grave of his first love, and he had proposed marriage to a second and unwilling young woman. By the time he married Mary Todd, who was neither beautiful nor gracious, he had come to regard marriage as a necessity rather than as the ultimate result of love and romance.

Their courtship was long and suffered many bumps and separations before it culminated in marriage. When Lincoln first met Miss Todd she was only sixteen years old and was being courted by Stephen Douglas, the great man's rival in many things.

Lincoln had suggested in a rather offhand way that he would marry her. Apparently regret set in rather soon, for he made several attempts to gracefully withdraw from the compact. But Mary, with prophetic vision, had an idea that he would one day reach the White House and she was determined to be its mistress.

"Kidnap" Camera.

When you inquire about the big camera the station photographer uses in taking the 1½-inch square photographs for the 50-trip family ticket he says, "Oh, it is a special one we invented years ago for kidnaping."

"How do you number them?" "It is a six-exposure plate, and each of these spaces on the sheet of paper corresponds to one on the plate. Each plate is numbered. We used to use this camera for kidnaping."

Then you swallow your pride and ask boldly:

"What do you mean—kidnaping?"

He laughs kindly at your ignorance.

"Why, you know," he says, "we take our camera and go out on the street and see a little boy and take his picture. We get his name and address. By and by, after we develop the picture, we go around to his home and show it to his mother. If she likes the picture, she buys one. That's kidnaping."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

MOSCOW NOW "WIDE OPEN"

Staid City of Czars and Repressed Capital of Early Sovietism Gone.

Moscow has become a wide-open town for the first time in its modern history. It is open for business, for thefts, for holdups, for fun, for disease and disaster, for speculation, for drinking, for any and all things man or woman may devise.

The old-timers of the staid prewar regime cannot recognize anything but the snow. It used to be, before the war, a sort of country, family town as compared to the gayer St. Petersburg.

During the revolutions it lost this friendly aspect of quiet and, as the soviet settled down here, it became strictly moral and severe, with only the grand opera to lighten the load of propaganda and thousands of orders on how to live and prosper and be happy, notwithstanding closed shops, lack of bread and medicine and clothes.

A Russian Rip Van Winkle who had slept during the last three years wouldn't know the town these nights. Church bells ring out for prayers. Communists and bourgeoisie, peasants and princesses are all scrambling for more money that they may not fall into the abyss of famine. Cabmen are fighting for higher rates, grain dealers for more rubles a bushel, bakers for more a pound, candy and cookery shops are blooming out in every corner, wine and vodka are sold in millinery shops and the eighty policemen of the town have long since quit bothering with footpads. The lid is off.

PLENTY OF WHITE OWLS

Judge Reports That Woods of York County, Me., Are Full of Them.

Judge George L. Emery of the Biddeford (Me.) municipal court, who is a hunter of no small skill and a nature student of years' experience, reports that the woods in York county are full of white owls this season.

One specimen which he showed was gigantic in size.

On taking the bird to a taxidermist he found six others ready for mounting, all from western Maine. Judge Emery says there are more white owls in Maine this year than since he was a boy.

James E. O'Brien, Not Related, of the Northern Home Furnishing Co., Also Receives Letter

Letters received by Con O'Brien of the O'Brien Mercantile Company, and James E. O'Brien of the Northern Home Furnishing Company demanding money or threatening dire evil, are now considered by many to be a mere hoax. It is believed some irresponsible party or parties conceived the letters as a means of causing some excitement, although the writers probably do not realize that authorship of such letters is a serious offense. The letter was postmarked Brainerd and was written in lead pencil. The signature is two printed letters "D. D." or "P. P."

The one first written was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien at their home, 409 South Broadway, and demanded $5,000 be placed in a glass jar in a boiler at the old Boppel brewery, Boom lake, by March 13.

The letter received by James E. O'Brien, who is no relative of Cornelius O'Brien, came in the afternoon mail Monday from Crosby and was in a similar envelope of small size. Instead of being written, it was printed in lead pencil. The signature was a pictured cross bones and skull.

The authorities were notified in each instance. In the interest of justice the Dispatch was asked to refrain from any mention of the first letter so as to give the authorities opportunity to work on the case. The Dispatch made no mention on that account, although half of Brainerd got the story by the back fence relay system of gossip.

HARD TIME DANCE

And Birthday Party Given Friday Evening by the "Giversand Club" In Honor of Bert Gilmer

(Contributed)

A hard time dance and birthday party was given Friday evening by the "Giversand Club" in honor of Bert Gilmer. Mr. and Mrs. Mack McCulloch played the leading role on the committee and A. M. Neis was a close second. Dancing was begun at 8 o'clock and continued until 12. Music was furnished by Frampton's orchestra.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Neis gave a short talk in behalf of friends and members of the club at which time a token of friendship was presented to Mr. Gilmer consisting of a gold chain and a chain mounted with emblems of the L. O. O. M. and I. O. O. F., after which Mr. Gilmer gave a short talk thanking all for their kindness, and entertained them with a clog dance, accompanied by Mrs. William Schlange. A most enjoyable evening was spent by the thirty couples present.

TO MEET IN CHAMBER

Business & Professional Women's Club Room Now too Small to Hold 100 Per Cent Meeting of Club

There will be a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This is the regular monthly meeting of club, but the club rooms in the Lyceum building are now too small for the increased membership so the Chamber has offered its club rooms for the monthly business meetings.

It is desired that the full membership turn out at this meeting, as matters of much importance are to be on the table. The committee of the fiftieth anniversary of Brainerd will report on the meeting held March 2nd, and suggestions are asked as to the form of entertainment the club will provide during the Home Coming week.

There will be no social activities of the club during Lent, other than the informal meetings held in the club rooms. The dinner scheduled in March will be given at a later date.

OYSTER STEW TO BE SERVED

Large Attendance Expected from the Range Country, Lines of Communication Improving

There will be initiation on Thursday evening, March 16, at the Brainerd lodge of Elks and a large attendance is expected from all points in the jurisdiction. Range roads are improving and many from Crosby and Ironton will be at the meeting.

C. B. Rowley has been experimenting in the construction of a new goat and the animal may be given its first trial performance on Thursday night. The house and social committee will provide a generous luncheon of steaming hot oyster stew, coffee and doughnuts. Preparations will be made for the next meeting of April 6 when the new officers are to be installed.

Title Moves Fast

(By United Press.) London, March 14.—By the death of a baronet the title changes for the second time since its creation in 1918—believed to be a record. The first baronet, Sir Thomas Watson, was killed by a motor-car last May. His son, Sir Wilfred, has just died of flu. The title passes to a brother, Geoffrey.

MORE ROADS FOR THE MONEY

(From the St. Paul Dispatch)

Lowest prices in a long time for road work have been brought out by the bidding on state highway contracts. The state will get the fifteen jobs for materially less than was expected. The result will be greater mileage of improved roads to be obtained this year with the total fund. There will be reasonable profits for the contractors and a larger number of men employed. The automobile and truck owners are entitled to more for their money, for it has been harder for them to raise it. The highway commissioner is entitled to credit for preparing the specifications in such a way as to help bring out twice as many bidders as last year. The quality of work will depend on the efficiency of his engineers, for there is nothing more expensive in road building than incompetent oversight. The first year of the new system of state highway construction has been an object lesson to Ramsey and every county in the way it ought to be done.

HEAVY RAINS IN CITY PAST YEARS

Rain Frequently Falls One Inch or More in a 24 Hour Period, Keeps Sewers Busy

RAINFALL DATA IS IMPORTANT

On it the City Engineer Bases Necessary Capacity of New Sewers to Handle Flood

A 24 hour period in the summer will often register a rainfall of over one inch. Looking back over old weather records, one finds these statistics in various years:

1921, there fell in a 24 hour period 2.69 inches. This was 0.87 inches on May 29 and 1.82 inches on May 30. On July 3 the rainfall was 1.53 inches.

1920, May 10 a rainfall of 1.60 inches in 24 hours. May 30, 1.22 inches.

1919, July 6, 1.07 inches. 1916, June 28, 1.62 inches. June 29, 1.67 inches.

1915, March 15, heaviest rainfall recorded 2.06 inches.

1914, June 7, 1.58 inches and June 24, 1.48 inches.

1913, September 10, 1.29 inches.

OVERHAULING TIME

Now is the Time to get the "Old Bus" Out and Have it Tuned Up for Spring Travel

Now is the time to repaint and overhaul the "old bus" before the spring rush gets going in full blast, if you intend having the car done this season.

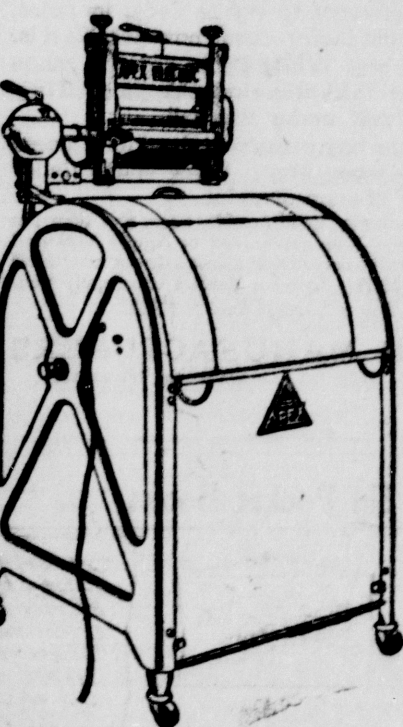

In overhauling the car attention should be devoted mainly to the motor, brakes and other vital parts of the machine. This is only natural, in view of the importance of having these parts in perfect condition for the usual increased use during the summer months, but the motorist should not neglect the body of his car, nor its top, as is so often the case. Both frequently require attention, having experienced rough usage during the winter.

After the overhauling work is completed is the time to do the paint job, and the work should be started in advance of the spring season when the greatest rush occurs. Cars are not so much needed now as later, which means that the owner can have his automobile repainted with but little sacrifice, and the varnish will have had ample time to set before the first sloppy days of spring driving.

BRAINIONIAN TRIO

Miss Drexler, Miss Morrison and Miss Alice Johnson Take Part in Pine River Program

(Pine River Sentinel-Blaze)
The concert given at the M. E. church last Friday evening was throughout a musical treat that will be remembered in Pine River for some time. Owing to the school program the same evening, the attendance was not what it should have been, but many had bought tickets who could not come, so financially it was quite successful. The Brainionian Trio consisted of Miss Drexler, soloist; Miss Morrison, violinist and Miss Johnson, pianist and reader. Each was an artist, and together they gave a very pleasing entertainment. They were assisted by local talent, Mrs. Chas. Griffith, soloist and reader and A. F. Harbo of the Pine River faculty, soloist. The numbers of these latter added greatly to the program and were well received.

ANCONA HEN HAS LAYING SCHEDULE

One of the prize winning Anconas pullets owned by Mrs. Rose has developed into a most prolific layer and what is still more extraordinary, the little hen has a laying schedule which has puzzled the county agent.

She lays two sizes of eggs. She started with a small egg and then alternates daily with a large egg, more than double the size of the small egg. Mrs. Rose doesn't know what to think of the ambitious little Ancona and the remarkable difference in size of the eggs produced has caused the whole poultry producing neighborhood to become interested in the matter. Dr. C. A. Nelson never heard of a similar case.

It is believed that settings of the large eggs may produce chicken capable of producing eggs as big as turkey eggs and may mean a new strain of Anconas of super-egg power.

Race Betting Falls Off

(By United Press.) Paris, March 14.—The general tightening up of economic conditions in Europe has hit race track betting. The committee which takes the state's percentage of the receipts of the Pari-Mutuel betting machines at the tracks has reported that the 1921 takings were 24,500,000 francs, or a drop of about ten per cent under last year.

"Broken Blossoms"

The difference between a romance in the voiceless art as presented by D. W. Griffith and any other producer is the difference in the distinctive quality of the art, as easily felt and discerned as the difference between an etching by Whistler and the same subject handled by a lesser artist. In "Broken Blossoms," by Mr. Griffith, which is the present attraction at the Lyceum, there are so many wonders of the camera-art that have been invented merely to bring out the finer points of the tender romance, that many of them are just taken for granted by the audience, though to most other producers these effects are regarded as technically wonderful.

Thomas Burke, who wrote "Limehouse Nights," from which Mr. Griffith has chosen the story of "The Chink and the Child," to illustrate his fine philosophy of humanity, religion and art, speaks often of that rather dreary district hard by the East India docks in London, where gather the strange sea people from all the parts of the world. The streets that are peopled with these characters, the Limehouse Road, the Mile End Road, Pennyfields and the rest, were once lowly swamps that have been wrung, in the course of years, from the grip of the misty river. So it is that when elsewhere the skies are fair, this district is wrapped in fogs, fit cover for the deeds of hatred and cruelty that so often take place there.

It would be interesting to know what pains and money D. W. Griffith spent in experimenting on this one feature alone. It will be shown last time tonight.

Griffith's Picture Has Great Appeal

There is no question as to the great production, "Way Down East," and at the New Park theatre this splendid and thrilling amplification and story to tell, and there is a straight forward and effective method employed, with a culmination of tremendous power. Indeed nothing has ever been seen on stage or screen to equal the thrilling intensity of the scenes depicting the wanderings of Anna Moore through snow storm and over ice and the rescue of the hopeless young woman by David Bartlett as she lies on an ice floe on the brink of a falls. Realism is here brought to the ultimate and the scenes are presented with sincerity by Lillian Gish and Richard Barthelmess.

Chorus Girls and Kitchens

It seems to be the impression of some persons that the chorus girl spends all her time off-stage in drinking champagne and vamping rich young men.

As a matter of fact, chorus girls do not earn the most lavish salaries in the world, and many of them live more frugally than is usually known, keeping house for themselves in little groups of two or three, in tiny apartments with kitchenettes. Many of them, of course, simply live at home with their parents, just as shop girls and stenographers and other business girls do.

Peggy Malone, the heroine of "Face Value," the latest Wanda Hawley release which will play at the New Park Thursday, is such a chorus girl, and no serious school "marm" could have been a more dutiful daughter and sister—nor a better cook.

From the time you first see Peggy Malone getting up early after a night spent in rehearsals to cook her father's breakfast, she has your heart and your attention—particularly after you get better acquainted with her "Pop" and brother Eddie, both efficient grafters and loafers, who impose on Peggy's generosity.

DIDN'T KNOW HIS BROTHER

"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." Wore His Antagonist Out.

Roosters have different tactics when fighting and often display considerable brainwork. Recently, in a Cuban rooster fight, where a little rooster was pitted against a big fellow, the little bird looked at his antagonist and started to run around and around, with the big rooster after him. Then, when the big bird was out of breath, the little one turned on him and whipped him in short order.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

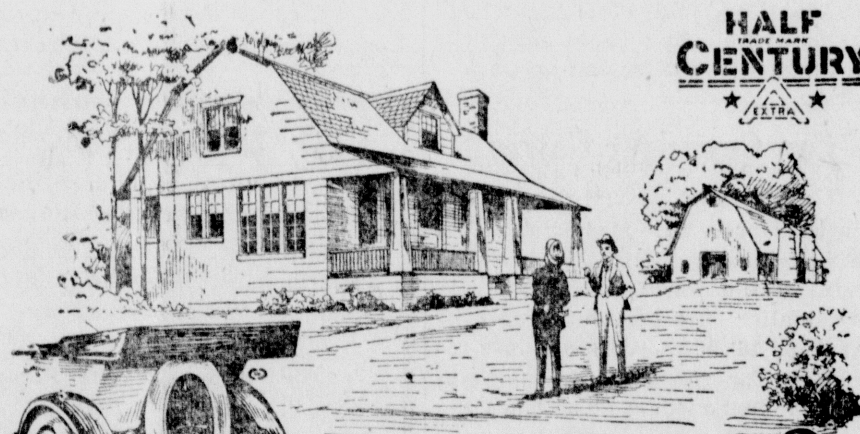

Harmless To Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Adv.

Has it a good Roof?

How many times have you heard people ask that question about a house? Your house or any other house? Same with a barn. Why wouldn't they? Wouldn't you? Sure you would. It's a logical question. When you build, or re-roof your old house or barn, insist on having

"HALF CENTURY" BRAND WHITE CEDAR SHINGLES

Made With Galvanized or Copper Nails and then you will know you have a good roof. White Cedar is the best shingle wood because it resists the weather best. It lasts and lasts. The big public utility companies always give preference to White Cedar for poles, cross arms and ties because they know from their records how durable it is.

And "Half Century" Brand are the best White Cedar shingles made because they are always cut the right thickness—no skimping. They won't curl up and break or warp, or split under the nail.

And they are always air cured. No hasty rushing dry kiln process to take the life and strength out of the wood fibre. Being White Cedar they furnish the best base for any color of stain or paint.

Don't forget: there's no sense in buying shingles good for fifty years and then lay them with common steel nails that will rust out. Use galvanized or copper nails and "Half Century" Shingles and your roof problem is solved for keeps. Insist on "Half Century Brand"—proved by the above Trade Mark. Lumber dealers can supply you.
